INVESTMENT STRATEGY

DJE - Multi Asset & Trends is a dynamic global multi-asset fund. The diversified portfolio of approximately 50 to 70 equities and between 20 to 40 bonds is managed independent from any benchmark. The fund management pursues a thematic approach to benefit from current and long-term trends, including digital transformation, demographics & health, and clean technologies. The strategy targets companies with stable business models and above-average growth prospects, combined with reasonable valuations. Additional diversification is achieved by investing in up to 10% of the portfolio in gold. The fund seeks to exploit global opportunities to generate an attractive performance.

The Funds are actively managed by DJE and, where a benchmark index is indicated, without reference to it. The presented charts and tables concerning performance are based on our own calculations according to the gross performance (BVI) method<sup>2</sup> and illustrate past development. Past performance is not indicative for future returns. The BVI method takes into account all costs incurred at the fund level (e.g. management fees), the net performance and the issue fee. Additional individual costs may be incurred at the customer level (e.g. custodian fees, commission and other charges). Model calculation (net): an investor wishes to purchase shares for Euro 1,000. With a maximum issue surcharge of 0.00%, he has to spend a one-off amount of Euro 0.00 when making the purchase. In addition, there may be custodian costs that reduce performance. The custodian costs are decided by your bank's price list and service charges

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

The stock markets maintained their momentum from the previous month in February and performed very favourably. The German share index DAX reached a record high and rose by 4.58%. The broad European index Stoxx Europe 600 was slightly weaker with a gain of 1.84%. The broad US S&P 500 index was significantly stronger, rising by 5.66% and topping 5,000 points for the first time. The biggest gain in February came from the Far East: Hong Kong's Hang Seng Index climbed by 6.97%. Overall, equities, as measured by the global MSCI World, rose by 4.60% - all index figures in euro terms. A key performance driver behind this was the continuing enthusiasm of the markets around the topic of artificial intelligence. Added to this were mostly good quarterly figures, robust data from the US labour market and rising purchasing managers' indices in the US, which signal an expansive economy. However, the US inflation data was higher than expected, meaning that the US Federal Reserve still had no reason to cut interest rates. In the eurozone, on the other hand, inflation continued to fall and only the Purchasing Managers' Index for services left the recessionary zone. By contrast, its counterpart for the manufacturing industry sank even lower. Experts believe that the ECB may cut its key interest rate for the first time in June. It was noticeable on the bond markets that expectations of interest rate cuts were already premature at the beginning of the year. Yields on high-quality government and corporate bonds rose noticeably. At 2.41%, 10-year German government bonds yielded 25 basis points higher, while their US counterparts were 34 basis points higher at 4.25%. The price of a troy ounce of gold rose by 0.23% to USD 2,044.30. Against this backdrop, the DJE - Multi Asset & Trends rose by 1.46%. Most sectors within the global equity index MSCI World performed positively. The biggest gains came from the retail, automotive, media and technology sectors. By contrast, the basic materials, telecommunications and food & beverages sectors performed negatively. The fund benefited in particular from its exposure to the retail, chemicals and insurance sectors, while the utilities, energy and telecommunications sectors, among others, had a negative impact on performance. The strongest individual stocks in the portfolio included Coinbase Global, a US trading platform for cryptocurrencies, Tokyo Electron, a Japanese manufacturer of machines for the semiconductor industry, and NVIDIA, a US developer of graphics processors. The weakest results came from TechnoPro, a Japanese temporary employment agency specialising in the technology sector, the Japanese electronics group Sony and the Norwegian energy group Equinor. The fund management adjusted the fund's equity allocation slightly and increased the weighting of the chemicals, consumer goods & services and retail sectors in particular. In return, it reduced the technology, insurance and healthcare sectors, among others. The equity allocation fell from 68.01% to 66.74% as a result of the adjustments. The bond portfolio was unable to make a positive contribution to performance due to the broad rise in yields on almost all bond types. The fund management reduced the bond ratio moderately from 23.56% to 22.28%. The certificate ratio fell from 6.30% to 6.00%. As a result of the allocation adjustments, the fund's liquidity increased from 2.13% to 4.98%.
